Adding a Stellar asset wallet

Updated 1 year ago

Note

You must have signing keys to add a wallet to a designated vault account. Only users with signing permissions, such as Owners, Admins, and Signers can create a Stellar asset wallet, whereas a Non-Signing Admin cannot add wallets. If you attempt to add a wallet without signing keys, a “Signer not found” error message appears in your Console in the Recent activity or Transaction history areas.

Overview

To activate a Stellar token asset wallet in your Fireblocks workspace to transfer Stellar assets on the Stellar blockchain, you must first establish a trust line to the token’s issuing account by completing an on-chain transaction on the Stellar blockchain. Each new asset trust line increases the Stellar wallet’s minimum required balance by 0.5 XLM.

Important

- Each Stellar asset wallet you create requires an on-chain transaction to activate it.
- For the above reason, you can add Stellar wallets only if you have signing permissions.
- Currently, Fireblocks supports only transferring, trading, storing, and managing Stellar tokens.
- Each new Stellar token account increases the minimum required balance by 0.5 XLM. Asset wallet creation only succeeds if the base Stellar wallet holds at least 1.5 XLM when creating the first Stellar token account (1 XLM for the Stellar wallet base reserve, and 0.5 XLM for the asset wallet base reserve).

Adding a Stellar asset wallet to a vault account

1. In the Fireblocks Console, go to Accounts, then select Vault.
2. Select the appropriate vault account, then select + Create wallet.

Once confirmed on-chain, the transaction activates your new Stellar token account on the blockchain.

Use the Recent activity panel to view the current status of your asset wallet creation.
